NOLAN: A NEW NAME IN JEWELRY

Nolan Premium Accessories Makes Quality Jewelry Accessible with the Launch of a Premiere Brand and Line

(Los Angeles, CA) February 5, 2009 — After years of designing commissioned jewelry, Los Angeles jewelry designer, Stacy Nolan, has launched her own brand of fine, fashion, and bridal jewelry. Nolan Premium Accessories makes Nolan's designs available to retail customers as well as members of the trade on her new website www.nolanla.com.

Nolan Premium Accessories uses only the best quality diamonds, gemstones, and precious metals that are ethically and environmentally sourced. In addition, each piece is handcrafted by expert goldsmiths and craftsmen to ensure that it is worthy of the Nolan name. Despite the rigorous attention to quality and detail, Nolan Premium Accessories outputs jewelry that is accessible.

"I've designed the line so that there is something for everyone," says Nolan, Owner and President of Nolan Premium Accessories. "Pieces can be dressed up or dressed down for day or night, worn with jeans or a cocktail dress. It really depends on the mood of the individual."

The flexibility of the lines and the individual pieces is part of what makes them so appealing. From fine jewelry sparkling with diamonds and gemstones, to fashion jewelry using semi-precious stones or trinkets such as old military buttons, the designs combine old-world charm with modern elegance and sensibilities.

Nolan, whose commissioned pieces have appeared in "Us Weekly" and "Daily Candy," personally designs each piece. Her signature line, "Dainty Diamonds," features necklaces sprinkled with cut and natural diamonds ranging from clear to black. In addition to her lines, Nolan also offers custom design services.

"One of my favorite things," says Nolan, "is working with customers through the design process. It's a great feeling to help them turn their imaginings and dreams into something tangible."

In her years of working various aspects of the jewelry industry on both the retail and wholesale sides as well as during her experience designing, Nolan has developed relationships with some of the best rare and large diamond and gemstone dealers in the country, whom she turns to not only for her lines but also for her custom designs.

About Nolan Premium Accessories

Nolan Premium Accessories is the brainchild of Stacy Nolan, a Los Angeles jewelry designer who originally hails from Shreveport, Louisiana. Stacy's designs for Nolan Premium Accessories reflect her southern roots and her modern sensibility. She lived and worked abroad in London, Madrid, Hong Kong and Costa Rica before moving to Los Angeles and she combines elements from these various environments into her work, pulling from the elegance of a metropolis, the charm of the South, and the vibrancy of the natural wilderness. Stacy earned a Business degree from Tulane University and is a Graduate Gemologist from the Gemological Institute of America (GIA) where she also studied design. In addition, Stacy trained in silversmithing at the Sir John Cass Department at the London Metropolitan Museum. All Nolan Premium Accessories products are made in the U.S.A.
